SEASON IS AT ITS HEIGHT

PATRONAGE OF RACING AT JUAREZ NOW SHOWING GRATIFYING IMPROVEMENT.

Closing Date of Meeting Definitely Set for Sunday, April 4—Budget of Timely Gossip from Mexican Course.

El Paso, Tex., March 6.—As now contemplated, the present meeting of the Jockey Club Juarez will close on Easter Sunday, which falls this year on April 4. This will provide one hundred and eighteen racing days for this winter's meeting at this great racing plant, which is four days longer than the 1913-1914 meeting, which ran for one hundred and fourteen days and came to a close on March 22. The closing date will be the latest in the history of the Mexican course, as in 1913 the finish came on March 23, while in 1912 it was March 24. In 1911 April 2, and in 1910, the opening meeting of the big track, on February 1.

The present meeting illustrates anew that the Jockey Club Juarez always makes good its promise as to racing dates. Since the opening season there has never been a meeting here which has not only run, the hundred racing days advertised, but in every instance has gone over the limit. The meeting here is now showing daily improvement in patronage. Many new faces are noticeable in the crowds in attendance and the racing has been so attractive that many tourists have prolonged their stay in this city to enjoy more of the sport than they had originally planned on. From now on the meeting is sure to enjoy marked prosperity and come to a close in brilliant fashion. There is a chance that never again will a meeting here be so handicapped by adverse weather conditions as fell to the lot of racing here in the early part of this winter. Such conditions are unusual here and another season the whole winter through may be as springlike as it was last season throughout. Next season Manager Winn will have the track in such condition that it can be raced over under any weather conditions and no break in the sport even for a day need then occur.

The track was virtually back to its normal condition today, having recovered from the effects of its drenching on Saturday. The morning was clear and again ran and there was no particular feature, the card being given over to the selling platters except for the two-year-old race, which was won in a romp by the much improved Frank Patterson, whose previous performance in the colors of P. T. Chinn had been so disappointing.

The talent found the card somewhat puzzling, yet managed to land on three of the winners. Tony Koch, Kenneth and Lenore. Cal Curr at 10 to 1, was the only outsider to score. In the fifth race, which was contested by a fair lot of platters, Beulah S. beat the well-backed favorite, Mild Sill.

With the return of good weather, a big week end crowd visited the course and the betting was spirited.

The official timer's watch must have gone wrong again, as he lunched out 12:43, as the time for the last race of the day. It was declared unofficial by the stewards and no time was hung out.

Jockey Cavanaugh was suspended for five days for rough riding and M. Simmons was given ten days suspension for similar offenses.

With the right advisers, it is thought that George W. Wingfield may duplicate Marcus Daly's record on the American turf. It is due in a large measure to his support that the racing bill introduced in Nevada has become a law, and being a man of vast wealth, now that he can see the money in his own state it is likely he will invest heavily in thoroughbreds within the next few years. He already has made some purchases in the thoroughbred line after having for a long time shown a keen admiration for the running horse. His recent purchase of Montgomery for his stud may be said to mark the beginning of his career as a breeder and his friends predict that sooner or later he will expand his operations and become as great a figure on the turf as Marcus Daly and J. B. Haggin were in the days of old. Like Messrs. Daly and Haggin, Mr. Wingfield owes his rise in the world of finance to the vast mining interests of the western country. Associated with Nat Goodwin, Tex Rickard and other prominent men, Mr. Wingfield became a mining promoter on a big scale and thus laid the foundation of his present enormous fortune. He bought large blocks of stock in the Mohawk mine for as low as 19 cents a share and sold his holdings for $25 a share. Then he invested in Montana and Tonahap mining shares, getting his stock for 3 and 4 cents a share and selling at $7 and $8 a share. In fact, every investment he made proved a bonanza and before he was hardly known outside of Nevada he had become the richest man in that state. Wingfield spent his boyhood days in California, going to Nevada as a youth during the first gold excitement in that state. His friends say he is now about forty years old. There has been no racing in Nevada aside from that at fair since 1909, when a meeting was held at Reno under the rules of the Pacific Jockey Club. It is now surmised that race meetings will be held in the near future at several Nevada towns, including Reno, Tonahap, Las Vegas and Goldfield. Reno has a good track, but a new grandstand will have to be built, as the old one was destroyed by fire a year or so ago. Tonahap and Goldfield both have good locations for mile tracks and it is understood that Mr. Wingfield has secured an option on the properties. It is the belief of horsemen that racing at Reno, under the present system of betting, can in time be made a great success. The city, while not exceeding 15,000 in population, is a live town and its location will permit it to draw patronage from other western cities. It being only six hours from Sacramento by rail, ten hours from San Francisco and not more than fourteen hours from Salt Lake City and Ogden. The race track is on the outskirts of the city and is not over ten minutes' ride on the street cars from the center. The track needs some work because of its somewhat rocky soil, but with a proper overhauling can be made into a fine, safe and fast course. With a backer like Mr. Wingfield behind racing at Reno, no doubt the state of Nevada will figure creditably in the sport. It is regarded here as a good opening for racing in the west and its success, under the pari-mutuel system of betting, will undoubtedly tend toward the revival of racing some day under the same system of betting in California and other western states that are now closed to the sport. Some of the big cities in these states need only the initiative of wealthy and enterprising men like Mr. Wingfield, and favorable legislation is sure to follow. The idea of such a revival of racing in these western states is to provide a chain of short meetings beginning in June and ending early in October. This will also be the program if a racing bill is enacted in Texas and the holding of such meetings will work to the benefit of the Juarez track. It will remain the one winter racing plant of this great section and each new racing plant in the district will be tributary to it.

Jockey A. Mott has entirely recovered from his recent severe shaking up in a race when one of his mounts took a tumble with him and is now again showing the form in the saddle which marked his work in Kentucky last season, when he won the Clark Handicap at Churchill Downs and the Latonia Inaugural Handicap with James McMann's Belle. This capable young rider, still able to ride as light

ENTRIES FOR TWO $10,000 RACES AND OTHER RICH KENTUCKY STAKES TO CLOSE TOMORROW

Cincinnati, O., March 6.—Entries for the richest list of stake events ever offered at one track in Kentucky will close Monday. The Latonia Jockey Club has offered nine stakes to be run during its coming meeting, carrying an aggregate added value of $27,500. In addition to the Latonia stakes, those at Douglas Park will close on the same day. Four stakes are to be decided at that meeting, the feature being the Kentucky Handicap, $10,000 added.

Horsemen who possess any horses of class can not afford to ignore the Kentucky circuit this season. A man who owns a three-year-old capable of winning in good company would be displaying bad business judgment if he did not enter that colt or filly in the Derby to be decided at Louisville and Latonia. Not only has he a chance to win two $10,000 Derbys, but he can run his horse in the $10,000 Kentucky Handicap, which is open to three-year-olds and over. In addition to these stakes, there are numerous other fixtures which carry $2,000 and $2,500 added money that will be worth anywhere from $4,000 to $5,000. There is no other circuit in America which can show such attractive offerings, and it is likely that practically all the really great horses of the country will be seen in action in Kentucky this season. There really seems to be good reason for expecting that it will turn out to be the banner year for Kentucky racing. Sixty-one days of the sport have been sanctioned by the Kentucky State Racing Commission, divided as follows:

Lexington, Thursday, April 22, to Wednesday, May 5 (12 days).

Churchill Downs, Saturday, May 8, to Friday, May 21 (12 days).

Douglas Park, Saturday, May 22, to Saturday, June 5 (13 days).

Latonia, Tuesday, June 8, to Monday, July 5 (24 days).

For the first time in the history of racing in Kentucky two Derbys, each carrying an added value of $10,000, will be run, the first at Churchill Downs and the second at Latonia. In addition to these two big stakes, the Kentucky Handicap, to be run at as 95 pounds, will ride in Kentucky again this year. His contract employer, N. K. Moody, of Vancouver, has already given E. C. Arnold and Co. first call on Mott's services for the Kentucky Derbys this season. The Arnold stable is in charge of the Lexington trainer, W. L. Lewis. Mr. Moody will himself go to Kentucky with Mott this year. He still has a three-year contract on the little rider. Good judges of a rider's ability among the horsemen here think Mott will do even better in 1915 than he did last season when he was eighth in the list of American jockeys with a total of 105 winning mounts to his credit.

E. R. BRADLEY'S STRING FOR 1915.

Lexington, Ky., March 6.—The E. R. Bradley stable for 1915 will number twenty-two horses, twelve of which are two-year-olds, and they are now in training under the direction of Cliff Hammon at Idle Hour Farm near Lexington. Two of the number, Jack Carter and his two-year-old half brother, are the property of George C. Bennett and both are from the famous race mare Dishabille. The Bradley stable was not prosperous last year, but judging from the general appearance of the older horses and the looks and last fall's speedy trials of the youngsters, it is the hope of the host of friends of the master of Idle Hour Farm, who has been so consistently a patron of the turf.

Bennett is the veteran of the string. His daughter, of Mr. Aycock and the late President Taft, is the four-year-old Black Toney. Bencher, Boots and Saddle, Bradley's Choice and Loveland. Bars and Stars is the Derby candidate of the stable and the other three-year-olds are Brig's Sister, Beanspiller and Jack Carey. The two two-year-olds are Chestnut filly by Cunard—Sister Caroline, by St. Florian.

Chestnut colt by Cunard—Iszyel (dam of Slim Princess), by Hindoo.

Bay filly by Cunard—Folies Bergeres (dam of Bars and Stars), by Himyar.

Chestnut colt by Helmet or Cunard—Ella Smith (dam of Brig's Sister), by Joe Hooker.

Black filly by Sain—Bando (dam of Bac and Col. Tom Green), by Kingston.

Bay filly by Sain—Edie (dam of Penn, Bell Horse, War Horn and Bell Buoy), by Eon.

Bay or brown colt by Sain—Wayward Lass (dam of Bachelor Girl, Ballyshee and Buzz Around), by Sir Dixon.

Bay filly by Helmet—Miss Ringlets (dam of Bushy Head), by Handball.

Bay filly by Helmet—Stumpy (dam of Sir Edgar), by Handsome.

Chestnut filly by Voter—Bess Lass (dam of Menlo Park and Korfage), by Meddler.

Brown colt by Sain—Dishabille (dam of Jack Carey), by King's Counsel.

Bay colt by Sain—Love-not, by Voter.

The names claimed for the two-year-olds, in the order of their appearance above, are as follows: Bumble Day, Boy Smith, Bessie N., Big T. De, Blue Joe, Black Coffee, Blind Baggage, Belgian Trooper, Brown Eyed Kate, Blood Test, Bob's Olga. This leaves out of account the Dishabille colt. Trainer Hammon has not been notified of the acceptance of these names as yet.

Jack Carey and his yearling sister are expected to be light enough to do some of the heavy riding this year. The apprentice rider of the stable is little Jack Brown, son of Frank Brown, who is now at Havana.

OREGON HORSE BREEDERS ORGANIZE.

Last month at the Oregon Agricultural College an organization was formed called the Oregon Horse Breeders' Association. The horsemen of the state decided that it was time to form an association to look after its horse interests. There have been a good many things come up recently that needed an organization of this kind, and it is believed the organization would create interest in sound, pure bred horses. It is the idea of the association to promote good horses along all lines. Legislative problems also need an association of this kind, as legislators will look upon it as an official expression of the horse interests and it will get results where the individual breeder could not.

The officers of the association that were elected to hold office one year are as follows: President, John Wells; Vice-president, G. M. Burge; Secretary, Carl N. Kennedy; Corvallis; Treasurer, Claude Buchanan; Corvallis. In order that the association would be statewide a board of five directors was elected, one from each congressional district and two at large, as follows: First district, H. T. Adkinson, Wasco; second district, A. J. Eagan, Gervais; third district, Dr. A. G. Smith, Portland; at large, S. L. Brooks, Imbler, and Dr. R. E. Hunt, Roseburg.

Every person interested in the breeding of good horses or in the promotion of horses in the state may become a member of the association by the payment of dues. The dues were made $1, which will cover the cost of keeping the association running. —Rural Spirit.

Douglas Park on Saturday, May 21, also carries an added value of $10,000. Here is $30,000, which one horse may win. But the stakes are not the only big prizes on the Kentucky circuit. No purse of less than $600 is given at either of the Louisville tracks or at Latonia. This gives the selling platters a chance to do as well proportionately as the high-class racers.

The nine stake events to be decided at Latonia are:

Inaugural Handicap, three-year-olds and over, one mile and one-sixteenth, $2,000 added.

Latonia Derby, three-year-olds, one mile and one-half, $10,000 added.

Chippetta Stakes, two-year-old fillies, five furlongs, $2,000 added.

Merchants' Selling Stakes, three-year-olds and over, one mile, $1,500 added.

Harold Stakes, two-year-old colts and geldings, five furlongs, $2,000 added.

Quickstep Handicap, three-year-olds and over, six furlongs, $2,000 added.

Valuation Stakes, two-year-olds, five and one-half furlongs, $1,500 added.

Independence Handicap, three-year-olds and over, one mile and three-sixteenths, $2,500 added.

Cincinnati Trophy, two-year-olds, six furlongs, $4,000 added.

Four fixtures are to be decided at Douglas Park during the spring meeting. They are:

Kentucky Handicap, three-year-olds and over, one mile and a quarter, $10,000 added.

Memorial Handicap, three-year-olds and over, six furlongs, $2,000 added.

Spring Trial Stakes, two-year-olds, five furlongs, $2,500 added.

Speculation Stakes, selling, three-year-olds and over, one mile and one-sixteenth, $1,500 added.

Manager Hachmeister has representatives at Havana, Juarez, New Orleans, Lexington and Louisville to receive entries.

J. C. MILAM'S BIG STABLE.

Lexington, Ky., March 6.—The string to be raced this season by J. C. Milam will be composed of nineteen horses, including twelve juveniles. For the first time Mr. Milam's sterling old campaigner, Merrick, is omitted from the list, which seems strangely incomplete without him. Last year marked Merrick's final appearance on the turf after a career which extended over nine years, in every year of which he added his quota to the stable's earnings. A complete list of the horses, together with their pedigrees, follows:

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The Jockey Club has granted permission to the Maryland Jockey Club to relinquish May 19 of its spring meeting.

Charles Patterson, who trained the horses of John E. Madden last year, is planning a visit to Kentucky to look over the youngsters on the blue grass stock farms.

A. B. Hancock reports the following foals at his Ellerslie Stud in Virginia: Aurne, chestnut filly; Lady Godiva, bay filly; Network, chestnut colt, all by Celt. The mares will go back to the same horse.

The annual four mile flat race for hunters, which is run each spring by the members of the several hunts of Maryland, is scheduled to be run at Pimlico the morning of the opening day of the Maryland Jockey Club meeting, May 1.

Blankenburg generally conceded to be among the best of the steeplechasers last season, is being made ready for the coming season's campaign by Silas Veitch. His owner, Archibald Barklie, of Wayne, Pa., has become an enthusiast over the jumpers and it is said that his stable shelters another that will be hard to beat when he goes to the post.

R. J. Walden will not race at Pimlico this year, but will ship his string direct from his Maryland farm to Kentucky for the Derby and the other rich stakes of the Churchill Downs meeting. He has two three-year-olds from the Barbary Stable nominated for the Derby, one of which, Banquet, he expects to be a strong contender for honors in the Kentucky classic.

Manager O'Hara of the Bowie track has received word from Joseph McLennan, Bowie's racing secretary, who is at New Orleans, that several carloads of horses have already left for the Southern Maryland track and more will ship soon. The demand for stalls has become so great there that three more stables are being built to accommodate 150 horses. A receiving barn has also been built for the accommodation of horses which will be shipped to the track on the daily train from Benning.

INTEREST IN DERBY GROWS

HORSE WORLD LOOKING FORWARD TO BIG EVENT AT CHURCHILL DOWNS.

Many Important Stables Already Booked for New Louisville Jockey Club's Meeting in May—Derby Entries Soon to Be Announced.

Louisville, Ky., March 6.—Already many stables have applied for quarters at the New Louisville Jockey Club's course during the twelve-day spring meeting at Churchill Downs, which will open this season on Saturday, May 8, on which day the Kentucky Derby, $10,000 added, will be run. There is keener interest in the rich classic this year than ever before in its history of forty years and its list of entries, which closed last Monday, showed a remarkable array of three-year-olds, including practically all of the two-year-olds stars developed by the racing of 1914. Of course there have been times when the star two-year-olds of one season were by no means the cracks of the Derby racing of the following year. Some colts and fillies develop much earlier than others and frequently three-year-olds have displayed sensational form at that time which were most ordinary youngsters the year previous. A case in point was E. J. Baldwin's Rey de Santa Anita, which, in winning the American Derby of 1894, defeated such remarkable champion two-year-olds of the season previous as Domino and Senator Grady. The latter had only been beaten once as a youngster, while the Keene crack had quit the turf as a two-year-old with an unbeaten record.

Kentucky Derby one of the most spectacular races of the American turf of today. Its annuals are strewn with instances showing the uncertainty of great races in which great horses met. The mistake of a rider has often turned the tide of what seems almost certain victory for a colt into decisive defeat. Had "Pike" Barnes kept Proctor Knott straight in the Kentucky Derby of 1889, he would have had beyond a doubt won the event that season, instead of being nosed out by Spokane. Twice during the race Barnes lost control of the big chestnut gelding and, even with that disadvantage, the first Futurity winner was defeated only by a neck or two. Sam Bryant went to his grave believing that the placing judge had made a mistake and that Proctor Knott won the Derby, so close was the finish that afternoon.

Capt. J. T. Williams always thought that but for a heavy track he would have won the Kentucky Derby with Ram's Horn in Aggie's year and the poor riding of Roscoe Troxler caused Governor Gray to be beaten in the big race by Meridian in 1911. There are many who hark back to the long ago and remember when the mighty Falsetto was beaten by Lord Murphy in the big race of 1879. That was the only defeat that ever came to the great son of Equilibr. A month later and Lord Murphy would have had no chance in a race with Falsetto over the distance. Recalling the history of the Kentucky Derby for many years back, it is doubtful if any greater horse ever was defeated in that race than Falsetto. His victories later on over the great Spindrift in the Travers and Kerner Stakes established his wonderful ability and when he went to the stud he filled America with his fame. Few horses were more successful in the stud than Falsetto. It is odd that in this respect his name is so strongly linked with the big race which marked his defeat on the turf. In fact, his Eminence and Sir Huon, all Kentucky Derby winners, are by Falsetto and he sired George J. Long's last named great horse when he was twenty-six years old. Falsetto was bred and raced in the Derby by J. W. Hunt Reynolds, a Kentucky turfman whose breeding stud was located near Frankfort and known as Fleetwood Farm. He was a gentleman of the old school, having inherited a large fortune and he invested heavily in thoroughbreds, breeding horses only for racing purposes in his own colors. In fact he never had a race horse to sell, but he was a master of Raneocas for him, had he not been in ill health at that time. He did not live long after the mighty horse had made Fleetwood Farm famous, but though now long since dead, his place is secure for all time as the greatest of the Kentucky Derby winners who carried his colors has gone down in the annals of racing as one of America's greatest race horses of all time. Falsetto really introduced to the turf one of the greatest riders of any age in the famous Lord Murphy, known as "the black Archer." He rode the noted performer in all his races and always said that of all the horses he ever rode, Falsetto was his only equal. He was on Falsetto when that horse ran his mile in 1:25 1/2, which is still the American record for the distance. Murphy, the best of the best, in the Derby, won the Kentucky classic more times than any other rider that ever had a mount in the race. He first won it on Buchanan, five years after he rode Falsetto, and he also won it on Riley in 1890 and with Kingman the following season. His famous rider even made a greater record in the American Derby, for he won the big Chicago race four times on Modesty, Volante, Silver Cloud and Emperor of Norfolk. Many of the owners of eligible horses for this season's Derby would doubtless like to have a rider like Murphy was at his best when they cracked in the big race at the Downs the coming spring, but at that there will be an abundance of capable riders available for the coming race. Jockeys J. Kederis, T. Rice, J. Loftis, A. Mott, C. Borel, E. Goose, J. McQuinn, E. Martin, O. Connelly and A. Neilon are among those who have either been engaged already for the race or expect to be shortly.

Eugene Elrod is making arrangements for the usual special train to carry the horses from the Juarez track to the Churchill Downs course as soon as the winter meeting is over at the Mexican track. He writes that the train will leave El Paso on the noon following the closing day of the meeting at Juarez, the date of the closing there coming this year on Sunday, April 4. This will bring the special into this city not later than Thursday, April 8.

Secretary H. C. Applegate is busy classifying the entries for the various stakes to be run at the Downs this spring, aside from the Kentucky Derby. These events have all been arranged and embraced the Kentucky Oaks, the Clark Handicap, the Frank Fehr, Bashford Manor, Debutante and Juvenile Stakes. It will not be long now before Manager M. J. Winn will also be at the scene and in another week or two the Downs will be once again all bustle and activity, with all the world talking Derby and measuring the class of the great stars which will contest for the rich prize this spring.

TRAINER LUZADER BRINGS SUIT.

New Orleans, La., March 6.—Al Luzader, of Latonia, Ky., trainer during the recent race meeting here for Morgan & Newman, of Cleveland, Ohio, today instituted suit against them for six months' salary, amounting to $900, ten per cent. of earnings, profits and winnings on their horses, $61.50, and for $2,499.17 for money advanced to him for the horses here. He asks that a credit of $2,275 be made, leaving a balance of $1,003.67 due him. He sought a writ of attachment against twelve horses and an order that they be sold by the sheriff to satisfy his claim.

GOSSIP FROM BLUE GRASS REGION.

Lexington, Ky., March 6.—Price McKinney, of Cleveland, is here to inspect his thoroughbreds of the Wickliffe Stud at Kingston Farm. He has just bought the bay mare Tripping, foaled in 1908, by Delhi—Fairy Slipper, from William McDonald, of Calgary, Alta.

W. S. Threlkeld, of Pleasantville, Ky., has shipped to Senator Camden's Hartland Stud the mares Blaze o' Light and Blaze o' Gold, to be mated with Peter Quince.

A. B. Hancock, of Ellerslie Stud, has purchased from J. C. Milam the black mare Oro-woc, by Hamburg—Yankee Girl, by Sir Dixon. Col. Milton Young has claimed the name Quince for the bay colt, 2, by Peter Quince—Metzie, by Alloway, and that of Stunner for the bay filly, 2, by Marta Santa—Thrilled, by Potomac. His bay colt, 2, by McGee—Sadie May, by Cesarion, has been named Charlie McGee.

T. E. Plummer, of Woodstock, Va., has sent his mare Virginia Fairfax, by Tournament—Dixie Paradise, by Jim Gore, to the Land's End Stud of Mr. W. M. Atkinson to be mated with Singleton. Lady Frances, by Rapallo—Grassie, by Ben Ali, and a half-sister to Ella Bryson, has also been mated with Singleton. She is the property of Mr. Atkinson. Barney Schreiber, of Horse Haven Stock Farm, reports the following foals: February 3, Bay colt by Duke of Ormonde—Angela (dam of Mabel Montgomery, etc.), by Sain; February 15, bay colt by Duke of Ormonde—Latona (sister to Jack Atkin), by Sain; February 20, bay colt by Nealon or Marathon—Semolina, by Sain. The above mares were mated with Bannockburn this season.

John S. Barbee, of Glen Helen Stud, reports the following foals: The Russians are moving from Chestnut colt by Star Shoot—Eylet (dam of Eyebrow), by St. Andrew. Mare will be mated with Sweep.

Heavy rains put the Kentucky Association track out of commission today and training operations were confined to jogging on the roads and under sheds.

E. R. Bradley's Grail has foaled a filly by Helmet and will be mated with Beacomber.

EUROPEAN WAR DEVELOPMENTS.

Dispatches from the front in northern Poland indicate that in the district between the rivers Niemen and Vistula the Russians are moving irresistibly toward German soil, despite the fiercest efforts of General von Hindenburg's army to stop them. It is admitted unofficially in Berlin that the Germans have been forced to retire close to the east Prussian frontier.

The allied fleet has entered the narrows of the Dardanelles and is now bombarding forts on both sides of the strait. The British admiralty announced yesterday afternoon. Two Turkish land defenses have been severely damaged and the magazine of one blown up by the warships' shells.

Except in the central Beskid pass of the Carpathians, the Russians are on the offensive from the Baltic sea to the Romanian border. Apparently they have definitely disposed of the German and Austrian attempts to outflank their two extreme wings.

The supreme Turkish war council, according to a dispatch to the Paris Temps from Petrograd, has decided to abandon all further operations against Egypt and to recall to European Turkey the troops sent to Egypt.

The Boston-owned steamer Pacific, carrying cotton from Galveston for Rotterdam, has been held up by a British warship and taken to Deal, according to a message received by owners of the vessel.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

The spread of anarchy in Mexico has caused a renewal of the pressure upon President Wilson and his advisers to consent to Pan-American intervention for the restoration of order in the revolutionary republic. It has become known that several high administrative officials look with favor on the proposal that the United States and other A. B. C. powers of South America send an expeditionary force to Mexico City to protect foreigners and their property under an agreement similar to that which governed the rescue of the legations at Peking in 1900. The president is loath to enter upon such an undertaking except possibly as a last resort.

The steamship Touraine is afloat in latitude 48.06 north and longitude 20.14 west, according to wireless messages. Five steamers have gone to the assistance of La Touraine the message said. The message telling of the fire was received by Loyds from the wireless station at Valentia, Ireland. In addition to giving the position of La Touraine, it stated that the steamers Rotterdam, Swannore, Cornishman, Arabie and others were going to her assistance. La Touraine has aboard thirty-eight first cabin passengers and forty-six in the steerage.

Forty-seven miners were found alive in the Laidlaw mine of the New River and Pocumtous coal company in West Virginia, where they had been entombed since last Tuesday when a gas explosion wrecked one mine and seriously damaged two others. About 170 men were thought to have lost their lives, and so far seventy-eight bodies have been taken out. Hope for any of the remaining miners has been abandoned.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels formally announced that the entire Atlantic fleet will assemble near New York between May 1 and June 24 to take part in the maneuvers. Mr. Daniels said that he is unable at this time to state the date of the arrival of the ships more specifically because the fleet must engage in target practice on its way from Cuba and because it is scheduled to go to the naval station at Newport.

No British or neutral steamship will sail from New York or Great Britain for eleven days. This will be the first time in thirty-five years when a week has elapsed without a vessel sailing for England direct. Strikes at the port of Liverpool and the heavy demands made upon the transatlantic lines by the admiralty for transports have been responsible for the suspension of service.

Agents of the Holland-American line said there was no truth in the report that the freighter Norderly, bound from Rotterdam to New York, was torpedoed in the English channel and badly damaged. Reports to the London office said the freighter's propeller was broken when she ran into some debris near the Ischard Light. She turned back to Rotterdam for repairs, it was stated.

George (Honey Boy) Evans, widely known as a minstrel, song writer and theatrical manager, died at the Union Protestant hospital in Baltimore of tuberculosis. He had been in delicate health for some time. Evans was born in Cardiff, Wales, about two years ago. He came to America when seven years old. In turn he was a printer, a reporter, and an actor.

The Panama canal has been closed to all but the lighter draft ships by a rapid slide of earth from the top of the Culebra cut at a point north of Gold Hill. A further slide is probable, but no serious tie-up is expected. The state department is sufficient for navigation by ships with a draft of twenty feet.

To guard the safety of the Panama canal and as a step toward building up the force that is permanently to protect the zone the president has ordered the Twenty-ninth regiment of United States infantry to duty in the stateside camp at Fort Clayton, canal passes. This will bring the total garrison at Panama up to about 3,000 men.

The Wilson administration is carrying on negotiations with the governments of Brazil and Argentina in an effort to have them reduce tariff duties on American products. The result is expected to boost American trade with South America tremendously.

Advices received by the Constitutional council at San Antonio, Tex., says that General Carranza is sending to Washington a protest against the execution on Wednesday of Frederico Sanchez at Oakville, Tex., for the murder of a jailer.

Investigation of alleged manufacture of dumdum bullets in the United States for the use of the allies has been under way since the state department as a result of the submission of new evidence by the German embassy.

Five of the Filipino generals who took part in the Christmas eve uprising have been captured. They are Salazar, Marcan, Santos, Papa and Gatula. For nearly three months the constabulary has been hunting them.

The foreign diplomatic corps in Mexico City has decided to leave in a body. Dispatches telling of the decision were received at Washington by European diplomats and forwarded to their home governments.

A resolution for a constitutional amendment for woman suffrage was defeated by the Texas house of representatives, 90 to 32. American freedom of 40 votes to pass under the two-thirds rule.

Gen. Antonio Zaviera Correia Barreto has been proclaimed president of the republic of northern Portugal by a congress of democrats in session at Lamego, according to a dispatch from Madrid.

So grave is the Mexican situation that President Wilson has definitely abandoned his proposed trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco.

It is definitely settled beyond all doubt that Jack Johnson will not be allowed to fight Jess Willard. If there is a fight it will be at Havana.

Thomas R. Bard, senator from California from 1900 to 1905, is dead.

RAIN AFFECTS HAVANA TRACK A BIT.

Havana, Cuba, March 6.—Showers fell this morning and the Oriental Park track became a bit slow on consequence. Favorable weather for the five purses, the successful choices being St. Charlotte, Laura and Ben Uncas. The other races also went to short-priced contenders. H. G. Bedwell scored a double with Laura and Lochiel.

The proposed handicap race, which was to have been run at Oriental Park the past week has been postponed because some of the horses which have been schooled over the jumps here are taking their training slowly.

G. W. J. Russell, wealthy Pittsburgh turfman, has returned from northern trip.

The apprentice R. Flint, who is riding here for H. Neustadter, is a son of James Flint, of Lexington, Ky.
